Body text with italic, bold, bold italic, Small Caps, a superscript[12], underline and a phrase that must not break. The covenant formula recurs throughout the prophets with small but telling changes. Each change of wording marks a shift in the relationship the text describes. Readers in the early church heard these passages through the Greek translation. That translation smooths some difficulties of the Hebrew and sharpens others. A careful edition keeps both voices audible without forcing them into agreement.

The same in a smaller paragraph style: Body text with italic, bold, bold italic, Small Caps, a superscript[12], underline and a phrase that must not break.

In a sans heading: italic and Small Caps
